The Cosmological Argument – Guest Speaker

Dr. Don Page, Professor of Physics at the University of Alberta, will speak to the Philosophy 357 class on Friday, October 26, on the topic "Quantum Cosmology and Theology" – 12 noon, Auditorium. Two hours have been booked to allow for questions after the address.

Dr. Page is one of the young quantum physicists who is working on the leading edge of research in cosmology. He is the author of 97 scientific papers and book chapters on subjects such as black holes, quantum physics and cosmology.

Faculty: you are cordially invited; please bring your students.

Enrollment Management Task Force

Last March the firm of Ingersoll Williams and Associates was contracted to conduct an audit of the enrollment program at Concordia College. The audit proposed to identify the College's enrollment goals and forces which support or inhibit efforts to achieve those goals, and to make preliminary recommendations for change. The audit report, now on reserve in the Library, targeted key areas on which to concentrate our enrollment efforts – both for the short and the long term.

Enrollment of students is not simply a concern of the recruitment and admissions office. In order to ensure maximum results for enrollment management in Concordia's future, a task force will be created that represents the entire Concordia College campus community.

The job of the task force, as outlined by Ingersoll in the audit report, is:

- to serve as the focus for enrollment management planning and implementation at Concordia College
- to play a key role in the flow of information (including product development) and in developing the flow of energy and action around change in the organization
- to develop and smooth the way for actions needed to improve enrollment results

It is critical for the entire campus community to offer active and creative support as the College studies and implements better ways to serve the needs of our changing student body. If you have questions or comments as the process continues, please feel free to contact Lynn Gergens.

An enterprising young applicant for the police force was asked how he'd break up an angry crowd. He said, "I'd take up a collection!"

Proposal Writing Seminar

Barrie Day and Dave Redekopp will lead a seminar on how to write an effective proposal Monday, October 22, from 3:30–5:30pm at the Braemar Campus. Barrie and Dave are experts at proposal writing. Their record is impressive: two out of every three bids for projects/funding have been successful in the last year!

Concordia faculty who are looking for alternate sources of funding for research projects will find this seminar invaluable.

The seminar is FREE.

Fund-Raising Can Be Fun!

The Concordia College Guild is sponsoring a fun fund-raising project. You are invited to a shopping spree at Pirjo Liisa Fashions (10608 – 105 Ave.) on Thursday, October 25 from 7:00–9:00pm. Pirjo Liisa Fashions discounts name brands of women's clothing. The store will pay a percentage of Thursday evening's total sales to the Concordia College Guild, and the funds in turn will be used for 1990–91 campus projects.

Come and spruce up your fall wardrobe at sale prices and help the Guild reach its goal at the same time. Invite your friends to join you.

If the 7:00–9:00pm time frame is not good for you, you can shop earlier in the day and tell the sales clerk that you want your purchases included in the Concordia Guild project.

See you there!

Calendar Revisions

Changes for the 1991–92 College Calendar are due on Friday, November 2. Please submit in typed form to Cindy Willisko in Admissions (Rm. 210).

A sense of humor is what makes you laugh at something which would make you mad if it happened to you.

UCEP Update

Several UCEP staff members will be travelling during the next few weeks. Counselors Bonnie Young and Roslyn Beswick will attend both the Education Liaison Association of Alberta and the Guidance Counselors Convention in Banff on the November 1 weekend. Rob Campbell (Biology) and Sue Mills (Chemistry) will travel to Jasper for the ATA Science Conference, November 2-4.

Marilyn Westbury was recently commissioned by the Purchasing Management Association of Canada to write a sociology paper, "Canada's Changing Demographics," for distribution to the Association's 6500 government and industry members.

Preparations are being made for the opening of the Braemar Chemistry Lab. Instructor Sue Mills is cautious but enthusiastic that the first reactions will take place in the new facilities by November 1.

English instructors Mary Nelson and Don Pimm are making plans for a theatre "event" for UCEP students. The staff and students will attend a performance of Workshop West's The Rich Man, a play based upon the work of the Edmonton author, Henry Kriesel. The evening is planned for November 21; ticket price is $8.

In an effort to create a profile of students who attend the UCEP program, mathematics instructor Colleen Cooper is collecting statistics about the personal, financial, educational and work backgrounds of the students. All returns will be anonymous. Colleen hopes the information will be valuable to instructors and administrators who are currently involved in the development of a three-year plan for the UCEP program.

Reformation Service - Concordia Lutheran Seminary

Concordia Lutheran Seminary holds its annual Reformation Service at Bethlehem Lutheran Church (4638 - 117 Ave.) this year - 8:00pm on Wednesday, October 31. The preacher is Dr. Ed Kettner, and a combined choir from the seminary and local congregations will provide special music.

All are welcome to attend.

From the Cabinet and Councils

The new IBM RISC 6000 computer system included in this year's budget for the Student Services area is in the process of being installed. This UNIX-based system will eventually allow integration of other departments, including the Business Office and Development.

The remaining two incoming lines available on our telephone system have been brought into use. A survey of incoming calls revealed a loss of 30-40 calls per day before the new lines were installed.

A revised budget will be brought to the Finance Committee of the Board of Regents and the Board itself in November. An analysis of income and expenditures indicated enough changes to warrant a rewriting of the summary pages. Area budgets are not involved at this point and they will probably not require any revision as long as everyone exercises due restraint from now to the end of the year.

A new sociology major and business minor were approved at the recent faculty meeting. Following acceptance by the Board of Regents and the PCAB, the programs will be implemented in the 1991-92 academic year.

Our printshop has been receiving a number of requests that, unfortunately, involve an infringement of copyright laws. Therefore, commencing December 1, 1990, we will be asking that a permission letter from the registered owners accompany all printing orders of copyright materials, as required by law. Copyright regulations will be disseminated to faculty through the divisions in the near future to enable adequate preparation for printing needs next semester.

The Admissions and Registrar's offices close on Friday, October 26, for a staff retreat at Rundle Park. Brent Goebel will be available as required to answer telephones and inquiries.

Pam Barrett Presents Award to Grosfield

Pam Barrett, our local M.L.A., presents Lloyd Grosfield with his Excellence in Teaching Award Certificate following the chapel worship service on Monday morning, October 22.

Plan to be there to participate in this public acknowledgement of Lloyd's achievement.

HIT BROADWAY COMEDY
COMING TO CONCORDIA
THEATRE

G O D ' S F A V O R I T E

Don't miss this outrageous comedy by one of Broadway's greatest playwrights.

Neil Simon has taken the story of Job, as found in the Bible, and brought it into the twentieth century. The laughs come hard and heavy as calamities, disasters and catastrophes befall Joe Benjamin, a man blessed by God and tested by Satan.

What will be the outcome of this supernatural tug-of-war? You and all your friends will have to be there to find out!

Thurs., Nov. 1 - Mon., Nov. 5
Concordia College Auditorium

Adults—$5; Students and Seniors—$3.
Phone 479-8481 for tickets.

Doors open at 7:30 pm; performance begins at 8:00 pm
