

Concordia College Given Filmstrip

Lutheran Higher Education, a new 118-frame filmstrip on educational institutions of the denomination throughout the U.S. and Canada has been presented to Concordia College.

The Lutheran Brotherhood, Minneapolis-based fraternal insurance society made the presentation.

Norman E. Haug, 15212 84th Avenue, Edmonton, general agent for Lutheran Brotherhood, presented the new color filmstrip.

Rev. W. Seehagel, Dean of Students, Concordia College, accepted the filmstrip on behalf of the school and the faculty.

Concordia College, is featured in the filmstrip along with seminaries, junior and senior colleges and Bible schools that are related to the Lutheran Church. The color slidefilm offers a brief pictorial visit to the campuses. It is designed to supplement the printed Lutheran Higher Education directory which provides comparative information about North American schools for prospective students.
