HOMeward BOUND — Clayton Obal, 24, a Concordia College student in Edmonton, decided to ride his bicycle home after his examinations ended. He lives in Trail, B.C. Another student, Erhard Pefferkopf, is accompanying him by bicycle as far as Calgary, after which the youthful rider will swing west through the mountains via Banff. Wearing slacks and a windbreaker, and carrying an extra pair of slacks and a sleeping bag, Clayton hopes to cover his 750-mile route by next Thursday.
