New Art in the Library: Art and Design in the 21st Century

"Exploring the creative practices of [contemporary Edmonton artists] Jason Blower, Lee Nielsen and Jill Stanton, this exhibition investigates the principles which are shared by fine art and design; examines the considerations which separate these practices; and contemplates how these artists seek to balance the two realms of expression in their artistic endeavors."

This exhibit is brought to you by the AGA's travelling exhibition program and will be up our gallery space for the rest of the month.

the pass system

From the Northwest Resistance of 1885 and for over 60 years, the Canadian Government denied many Indigenous peoples of the prairies the basic freedom to leave their reserves, all the while knowing there was no basis in law for the policy. This investigative documentary features Cree, Saulteaux, Dene, Ojibwe and Blackfoot Elders and their stories of living under and resisting the system, revealing a little-known picture of life under segregation. In Canada.

"This powerful film draws from Elders' memories and historical artifacts in order to detail the history of the pass system - yet another example of the regulation and control of Indigenous people through colonial policies created by the Canadian state." - Idle No More
