Teaching French in the West Bank:

My Experience Being an International Volunteer with the Palestinian NGO Project Hope

Time: Noon – 1pm, Wednesday November 29

Location: HA 206

Presenter: Dr. Joanna Merkel

Dr. Joanna Merkel spent a month and a half volunteering with the Palestinian NGO Project Hope-Peace and Education in Palestine, founded in 2003 at the peak of the second intifada, when Nablus was under siege. In this presentation, she will offer a a brief and accessible introduction to the Israeli-Palestinian conflict since its beginning in the 20th century as well as a description of the work she did there.

The Alberta Smithsonian Internship Program (ASIP) invites ten Albertans each year to participate in an internship with the esteemed Smithsonian Institution, the world's largest consortium of museums located in Washington, D.C. The complex comprises several specialized museums and research centers that engage in the pursuit of information and knowledge in a variety of disciplines ranging from the arts, culture, and history to the sciences.

Work with Smithsonian scholars, scientists, researchers, and educators either in Washington, D.C., or at some of the other Smithsonian sites around the world. Assist with research and help produce world-class programs and exhibits, learn from experts in the fields, make an impact and develop personally and professionally.

Visit albertasmithsonian.com for more information and participate in a free webinar for interested students.

Date: November 29th

Time: 12 - 1 pm (MST)
