Everything You Ever Wanted to Know About the Alberta Oil Sands*

But Were Afraid to Ask Jacques Lacan*

Monday, January 30, 2017 | 4–5 pm | HA015

Presented by Richard Kover, PhD

Co-hosted by CUE Institute of Christian Studies and Society and the Theology and Science research cluster.

Using examples from current pro-oil sands public relations campaigns, this presentation will utilize the theoretical lens of psychoanalytic thinker Jacques Lacan to argue that in such advertisements oil is presented as a fetishized object or the objet petit a—"the object cause of desire" whose possession is seen to heal all economic, political and ecological ills.

Cancer Society Relay For Life

On March 3rd 2017, the University of Alberta Relay for Life team is hosting a Canadian Cancer Society Relay for Life in the Main Gym at the University of Alberta from 6:00 pm to 12:00 am. Relay For Life is an inspiring fundraiser that gives the opportunity to celebrate cancer survivors, remember and honour loved ones lost, and fight back against this indiscriminate disease. The six-hour event is full of activities and rich in emotions. Particularly, the luminaries' ceremony is quite popular. Candles in the name of loved ones affected by cancer are lit up and provide inspiration during the whole night.

The event is in its third year and participation goes beyond the university community. The past four events were very well received by participants and they are excited to come back this year. We are pushing for more participants and more visibility.

This non-competitive relay involves teams of approximately 10-15 people who run or walk around a pre-marked area. Teams are encouraged to have themes and costumes, and to fundraise for the Canadian Cancer Society in the weeks leading up to the event. The money raised funds the most promising cancer research, support programs for people living with cancer, comprehensive cancer information, prevention initiatives, and advocacy for healthy public policies. Significant progress is made every day in the fight against cancer. As a community, our goal is to raise at least $25,000 for the Canadian Cancer Society.

We would love to have representation of Concordia University of Edmonton at our event! Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions or concerns.
